

we specialize in creating vibrant aquatic environments, offering a wide range of high-quality aquariums, fish, and accessories. Whether you're a beginner or a seasoned hobbyist, we are here to help you build and maintain the perfect underwater world. Explore our diverse selection of freshwater and marine fish, plants, and custom aquarium setups designed to enhance any space.

WHAT WE DO:-

- Aquarium Design & Installation
- Aquarium Service & Maintenance
- Paludarium & Terrarium
- Fountains & Koi Ponds

Contact Us

☎ +91-7686087584
 ✉ Oceanwaves39@yahoo.com
 🌐 www.theoceanwaves.in

About us

Ocean Waves is a full aquarium design company that focuses on creating the finest example of custom aquarium systems. We focus on quality, providing our clients with system that work. We offering service ranging from consultant to complete design, fabrication, installation & maintenance packages. Over the past Ten years We have been creating aquariums of all types at the highest level possible. This commitment to perfecting our craft has allowed us to build a team of professional with the common goal of bringing our clients dreams to life.

We are experts in aquarium design and installation, providing top-quality services across India. Our team is dedicated to creating beautiful, tailor-made aquariums for homes and businesses.

Fresh Water Aquarium

Freshwater aquariums are a beautiful addition to any home or office, providing a relaxing and peaceful atmosphere. They are a perfect way to bring a little bit of nature indoors, as well as enjoy the beauty of vibrant and colorful fish species. There are many different types of freshwater aquariums, ranging from basic setups for beginners to more complex designs for experienced aquarists. Some popular fish species for freshwater aquariums include Bettas, Tetras, Guppies, and Angel Fish, among others.

Proper aquarium maintenance and care are essential to ensure the health and well-being of your fish and their environment. This includes regular cleaning, water testing, and monitoring your fish for signs of illness or stress. With the right setup and care, a freshwater aquarium can provide many years of enjoyment and relaxation.

Planted aquarium

It is not easy to create a natural, underwater landscape that is thriving! From selecting the live plants and substrate to designing the layout, it is quite a process. Then comes the involvement of rocks, driftwood and plants so that the entire design reflects depth, balance and aesthetic visual appeal. In order to support a beautifully planted aquarium there is the requirement of light, filtration and co2 systems. We know it might seem like a lot, but at Ocean Waves, you can be rest assured that all the worrying lies on our shoulders and the enjoyment of the completed product is left for you!

Aquascaping or designing a planted aquarium is an art that requires combining an artistic sense with the knowledge of underwater ecosystems. All you need to do is let us know of the available space that you have and we will guide you with design right from start to end. This will include guiding you in selecting a correct tank size for you along with the other elements like plants, rocks and driftwood so as to create a balanced, harmonious scape. We will also guide you in understanding and choosing nutrient rich substrates for your plants and proper filtration systems to keep the water crystal clear. A well designed planted aquarium in your drawing room will not only be a stunning feature but also give a peaceful glimpse into an underwater

Marine Aquarium

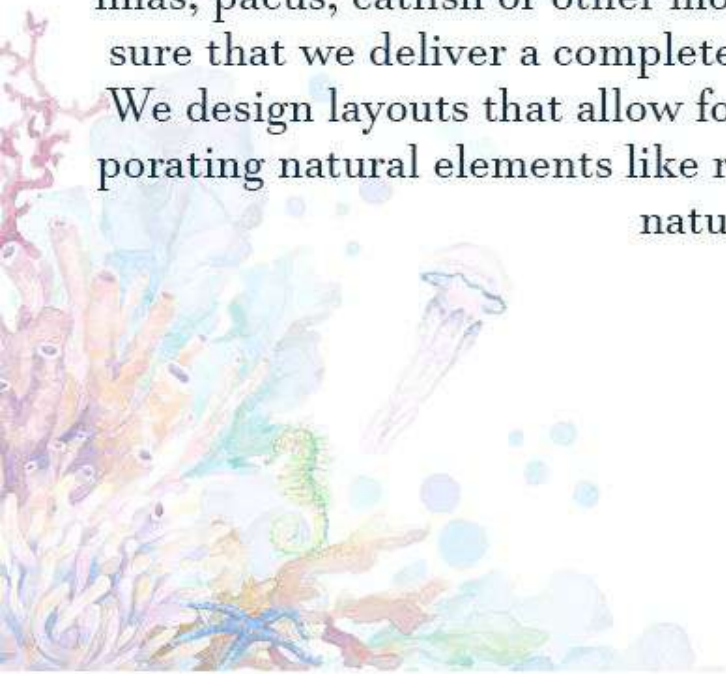

Marine aquariums are the closest depiction of scenes from under the ocean. Needless to say that their beauty cannot be created by anybody who deals in aquariums. Marine water aquariums need the specialized understanding of marine life and ecosystems in depth so as to make sure that the aquarium thrives. At Ocean Waves, we make sure that once you have finalized on the kind and style of the aquarium, we install it with utmost care and precision. We will help in installing a tank of the correct size, filtration systems, and lighting to create an optimal environment for marine life. From choosing the perfect combination of saltwater fish and invertebrates to ensuring the correct water chemistry, every detail is meticulously handled. We specialize in establishing a stunning marine aquarium, with an underwater ecosystem that captures the essence of the ocean.

Monster Fish Tank

We understand how taste and preferences can largely vary from one person to another. A very popular choice among new hobbyists and experienced ones alike, is the urge to keep monster fishes in their aquarium. Monster fishes are in a unique category of their own that require no separate explanation. However, with the want of keeping monster fishes, creeps in the requirement of durable and spacious tanks, powerful filtration systems, and a high water quality to ensure the livelihood and activities of these fishes. Be it Arowanas, Arapaimas, pacus, catfish or other monster fishes, we at Ocean Waves make sure that we deliver a complete system wherein your fish will thrive. We design layouts that allow for ample swimming space while incorporating natural elements like rocks and driftwood to mimic the fish's natural habitat.

Commercial Aquarium

Over the previous 10 years, Ocean Waves has built up an excellent reputation in installing both commercial and residential aquariums. Our commercial client list is ever growing, from small companies to large organisations.

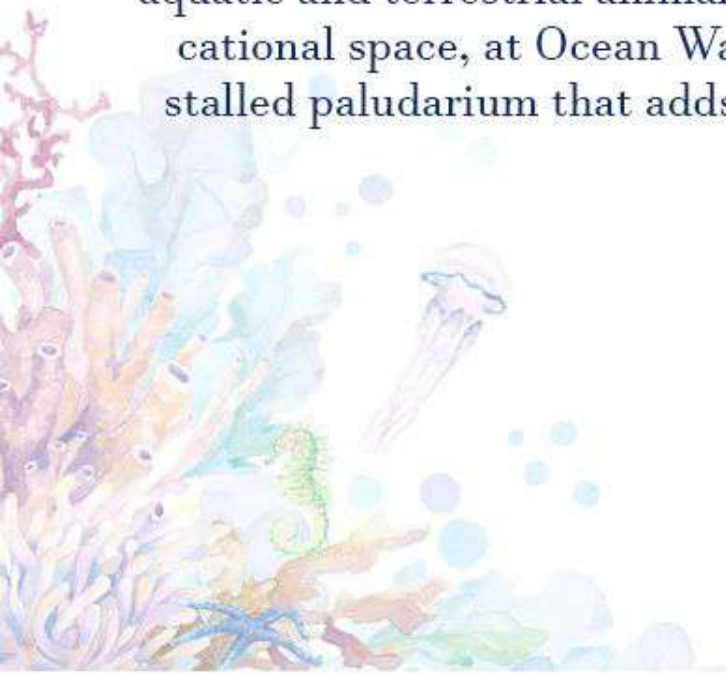

Designing, installing and maintaining aquariums for private and public sector organisations, including retail outlets, beauty counters, restaurants, head offices, department stores, airports, hospitals, care homes, dental surgeries, hotels, spas, nurseries, schools and many more.

During each design phase we work closely with architects, designers and builders to deliver our clients a bespoke luxury aquarium, that not only compliments the room, but creates a welcoming calming environment.

Paludarium

A paludarium is a “piece of nature” in the truest sense of the phrase! A beautiful combination of terrestrial and aquatic environments in one seamless setup gives rise to a paludarium. Considering paludariums need a proper natural combination of water and land features along with live plants, waterfall systems and aquatic animals, it is advisable that paludariums are only set up by professionals who can handle it all and have substantial experience in the field. A well set-up paludarium maintains proper balance between water and land features thus making it a thriving space for both aquatic and terrestrial animals. Whether for a home, office, or educational space, at Ocean Waves you will get a professionally installed paludarium that adds a captivating piece of nature to any setting.

Terrarium

Ever thought if you could have a small part of nature trapped in a glass cube forever? Well, with a terrarium, that is exactly what is possible! It is after years of practice and studying a wide variety of soil types, plants, mosses, living beings and temperature conditions that a professional is finally able to create something as magnificent as this. At Ocean Waves we strive to design terrariums to thrive with minimal maintenance, considering factors like light, humidity, and plant compatibility. Irrespective of whether you like open or closed terrariums, at Ocean Waves we have got an answer to all your questions! We ensure a balanced, aesthetically pleasing arrangement that brings nature indoors. A professionally installed terrarium offers a low-maintenance, green addition to any space, enhancing its beauty and providing a calming, natural atmosphere. We will understand your requirements and install the terrariums with finesse so that it fits in perfectly in your home.

Koi Pond

Do you think your backyard looks a little bland? A Koi pond may be that unique touch that your beautiful house has been missing all these days! No dream is ever too big. A koi pond in your backyard is a tremendously unique feature, that will not only transform your outdoor space into a serene, living work of art, but it will also make sure that your guests never forget what a beautiful time they had. The process involves selecting the right location, ensuring proper depth, and incorporating essential features like filtration, aeration, and water quality systems to maintain a healthy ecosystem. However, that is not all! At Ocean Waves, creativity finds its way out into every piece that we create. We incorporate natural features like rocks, plants and waterfalls and integrate them in a way to make sure you feel that you are sitting right in the heart of nature! Irrespective of the size, a professionally designed Koi pond will definitely offer you tranquility, serenity and a piece of nature right inside your home!

Fountain

Internal water feature:

Internal water features transform indoor spaces into tranquil, visually captivating environments. These features, whether elegant wall fountains, indoor waterfalls, or bubbling water walls, are custom-designed to complement the aesthetics of your space, enhancing ambiance and promoting relaxation. The industry-experts at Ocean Waves handle everything from the initial design, considering factors like space, style, and acoustics, to the seamless installation that integrates necessary plumbing, filtration, and lighting systems. Internal water features not only add a touch of luxury but also improve air quality and create a calming atmosphere. Perfect for homes, offices, or commercial spaces, they become a stunning, soothing focal point.

External water features:

We are equally skilled and adept at building external water features as we are with building internal water features. These services create custom features like garden fountains, ponds, and waterfalls that blend seamlessly with the natural landscape or architectural style. The installation process is handled by our skilled technicians who ensure proper plumbing, filtration, and water flow. An expertly designed and installed external water feature transforms gardens, courtyards, or patios into tranquil retreats, adding value and a stunning visual focal point.